

New York Insider TV

Where the beautiful people come to

What Can Brown\(ie\) Do For You?

June 30th, 2009

The Fancy Food Show is on in New York this week and loath as we are to spend much time at the Javits Center, this is one show (along with the annual auto extravaganza) that always merits a visit. This year marks the fifty-fifth annual outing for the expo and we, of course, have some favorites among the exhibitors. We recommend you not miss Lowell European Style Yogurt (try the (apple-pear with whole grain), Sarabeth's tomato basil soup (available for take-out purchase for the first time) and Oogie's gouda-flavored popcorn. Also on the must-try list if you can get to the show before it closes tomorrow: Mari's New York Caramel Sea Salt Brownies, a Gold Winner in tonight's sofi Awards, which were presented as Day 2 of the show drew to a fulfilling (pun intended) close.

